

GRIFOLS MEDICINES MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN UKRAINE

Grifols continues sending shipments of lifesaving humanitarian aid to the people of Ukraine, doing its part to help the country during the devastating conflict.

We are also working within the current constraints to ensure our medicines and diagnostic solutions continue reaching patients and healthcare professionals in the region.

Through international and local humanitarian and relief agencies, Grifols has provided anti-tetanus immunoglobulin, blood clotting factors, saline solutions and glucose. These medicines are helping war casualties, refugees and patients who depend on them and lack access to treatment given the dramatic circumstances.

At the same time, our employees are making financial donations through international organizations including UNICEF and Save the Children, showing their solidarity with the Ukrainian people and against the invasion of their country.

Grifols thanks its partners and employees for their rapid relief response and hopes this crisis comes to a peaceful conclusion as soon as possible.
